Round Robin

MR. MULHOLLAND'S UPDATE

Another full on week comes to a close. The picture to the right was taken by Mrs. Aspinall who caught these children building a slide for each other and then taking care to help their friends use it safely. Little moments like this remind us daily of how curious, co-operative and inventive our children can be.

Unfortunately, I do have to advise of some cases of Chicken Pox in school at the moment, so please be mindful to check your child if they have not already had this illness. Children with Chicken Pox can return to school once the spots have scabbed over (as they are no longer infectious).

This week, a team of Year 1 children represented us at the Teddylympics at Chelmsford Sports and Athletics Centre. They all performed magnificently and one athlete was simply Supreme!

And finally, I just wanted to say well done to Y6, who sat their second set of practice SATs this week. Their collective attitude to the tests was excellent and very much appreciated.

Have a great weekend everyone!

YOUR NEXT READ?

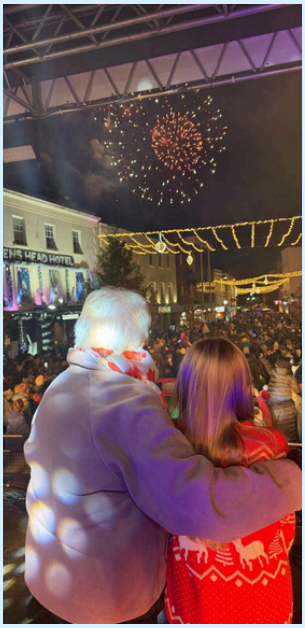

Owl 2 have enjoyed reading 'The Invisible Story' by Jaime Gamboa and Wen Hsu Chen, a story about a lonely book that has no words. A blind reader opens the book and as she runs her fingers along the pages we discover that it is full of words after all! This has inspired us to learn more about braille. What will your next book be?

MILDMAY COMMUNITY NEWS

Olivia was nominated for and won an 'Inspirational Young Person Award' last week and, as part of the award, got to turn on the Chelmsford Christmas lights!!

Olivia has raised over £10,000 for the Cystic Fibrosis Trust as well as completed a medical trial for over two years being one of only 4 in the country to do this and 1 of 20 in the world. Olivia has taken part in the trial to help medical science and help to improve lives of others' in her community.

It was a pleasure to welcome Mrs Shetty and her firends this week, to talk to the children all about why Diwali is an important festival in the Hindu faith. A really great assembly!

ANTI-BULLYING WEEK

This week has been Anti-Bullying week and, as a result, our PSHE lessons and Votes for Schools sessions have been focussed on this important message.

Year 1 made posters for anti-bullying week, reflecting on how we can 'break the silence' if we saw unkindness happening in our school.

BSL SIGNPOST

In Reception this week, the children have been learning the BSL for two very important skills and instructions. Ethan and Chloe were able to demonstrtae how to sign LOOK and LISTEN for me.

LITTLE ROBINS NURSERY

Little Robins have been busy with BSL too. They have been learning signs for our topic of transport. Here is Reiyaan teaching us the signs for train, boat, helicopter and motorbike

Few games have generated as much excitement as Grand Theft Auto VI. But with graphic violence, sexual content, drug and alcohol use and other mature themes, GTA VI is firmly intended for adults.
